

Acadia University Co-operative Education

As your organization begins to re-open, you may need short-term, low-cost skilled workers to fill gaps and innovate solutions to the challenges arising from COVID-19. Acadia's Co-op program has Arts, Business, Community Development, Computer Science, and Science students ready to put their skills to work for you beginning in September, January and May for a minimum of 12 weeks and 35 hours/week. Potential funding is available to offset costs of hiring by 50-90%. For more information on Acadia's Co-op program, the student hiring process, or to post a job, please visit <https://co-op.acadiau.ca/Employers.html> or contact us at co-op@acadiau.ca. We offer personalized assistance to help you identify potential funding sources and to make the hiring process easy!
