EMC Introduction and Event Update

This longstanding meme has never been more true than in the first 6 months of 2020. It has been an incredible time for businesses, families and individuals to modify, adapt and overcome. EMC's purpose is to bring manufacturers together to share best practices and help solve common problems. We have done this more than ever over the past months and I thank everyone in the manufacturing community here at home and across Canada for your willingness to share, learn and grow as we all do our best to do the next right thing.

Our schedule of events is starting to come together and training opportunities are coming back online. We as a sector are strong, resilient and most importantly adaptable.
